How does United Medical Credit Work?

Utilizing our wide network of affiliated lenders, United Medical Credit qualifies patients and clients for the most favorable payment plans available. Upon approval, a friendly sales associate will contact you to explain the terms of your plan.

If you decide to move forward, we will work with your provider to ensure that they are aware of the process. In most cases we disburse the funds directly to your provider in advance of the procedure date.

Frequently Asked Questions

How long does it take to get approved?

In most cases we can provide a response the same day. However, in some instances, a response may not come until the following business day since we want to ensure adequate review time for each and every application.

How do I apply?

For the fastest response, go directly to unitedmedicalcredit.com or through the application link on your provider's website. Alternatively, you can request a paper application from your provider and return the completed version back to them.

Will requesting the full cost of an expensive medical procedure decrease my chances of being approved?

We recommend that you apply for the full amount needed. Should you only be approved for a partial amount, we will be happy to let you know.

What can I do if my application is declined?

While we do our utmost to approve every applicant, it is not always possible to do so. If your application has been declined, you may want to consider resubmitting your application with a qualified co-signer. This typically strengthens a candidate's profile and may lead to an approval. You can also call or email us at (855) 503-1800 or info@unitedmedicalcredit.com to add a co-signer to an existing application.

Note: An approval may be subject to verification of income, employment, and/or residency
